MIDDLEWEIGHT PRIZE FIGHT. Billy Myers Knocks Out Harry Gilmore in

Less Than a Minute. North Judson, Ind., Jan. 20.—About fifty well dressed men came down here from Chicago and one hundred came up from Streator to see Harry Gilmore, of St. Paui, and Biliy Myers, of Streator, fight for the middleweight championship of the northwest and $1,000 a side. The fight did not begin till after 3 o'clock this morning. It took place in an old opera house. Both contestants looked pretty fine and overworked, but the Streator crowd came up with plenty of money, with which they were prepared to back the fighting carpenter. Gilmore's peotake anything except two to one. Even at these terms some cash changed hands. After much wranging Frank Glover was chosen referee. Bill Bradburn and Jim Cole acted as seconds for the St. Paul boy, Meetre.

Hope and Brennock were behind Myers, and

Parson Davies acted as final stakeholder,

Gilmore wore Jake Kilraiu's colors, which had been seut on especially for him. The two went, at it with a ruch. Glimere forced his opponent a little and reached once or twice without effect. Then Myers got in his right with a swing over his opponents eye. Then Myers' men cheered. They came together in a moment and rushed at each other again. There were a few punches and then the carpenter caught Gilmore on the neck. The St. Paul lad threw-up his hands and same down with a thump on the floor, his head making a noise like the beating of a big base drum. He tried to get to his feet again but couldn't make it. He was knowled out in less time than a minute and it was deeided that it was the shortest fight on record. Myere wasn't even scratched. His admirers

CINCINNATI, Jan. 20,-The dry details of bank bookkeeping don't keep away the awful crowd that hungers for sensation in the Hopkins trial. There might be a sensation in store at any moment, and so the erowd lingers. J. ATTEMPT TO ROB A TRAIN.

THE PLOT DISCOVERED AND FOILED BY A SHERIFF'S POSSE.

One of Them, It is Said, Was at One Time a Member of the James Gang-Quiet But Effective Work By the Officers.

Sr. Louis, Jan. 20.-When the regular east bound passenger train on the Wabash & Western road reached Missouri City, twentytwo miles east of Kansas City, last night at 9:20, the conductor found on the station platform a band of men with shotguns. He was informed that they were under command of an official of the county, who had received word that an attempt would be made to rob the train ten miles east of that point. One of the officers got into the engine and the other? distributed throughout the train. The train then pulled out.

None of the passengers on the train were notified of the danger, but the lights in the cars were lowered and the trainmen and the posse took their places at the doors of the coaches with drawn revolvers. The express messenger barricaded his car as did also the baggageman. As the train neared Cooley's lake, about two miles east of Missouri City, a red light was swung across the track. The engineer slowed up, and as the train came to a standstill, three masked men were discovple were also well heeled, but they refered to ered standing on the track directly in front of the engine. They ordered the engineer off the cab, and as he started as it to obey one of the sheriff's officers in the cab pointed his shotgun out of the front cab window and fired point blank at the three robbers.

As soon as the shot was fired all within the engine dropped from sight. The robbers fired at the engine, but did no harm, and then started to run. As they went down the bank the posse from Missouri City leaped from the train and began pursuit. Another posse had also been sent out by the sheriff and came up from the woods behind, A lively fusilade was kept up between the two bands as the train pulled out. It is now reported that the Missouri City pome killed or captured the whole gang, but nothing defluite is known. The robbers were known to the farmers living near Missouri City, and one of them, it is said, was at one time a member of the James gang. The train was delayed only twenty-five minutes at the scene of the attack.

A Committee Appointed to Bring Suis Against the Company—Other Troubles.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 20.—The Reading railroad strikers announce that a committee will go to Harrisburg to-morrow for the purpose of conferring with Attorney General Kirkpatrick regarding the interpretation of the law regarding corporations. Trouble Among the Carpet Weavers.

Philadelphia, Jau. 20.—The power loom ingrain carpet weavers are determined in their demand for an equal basis of wages for the whole craft, whether employed on the fast or on the slow power looms. Yesterday sixteen weavers, working on the Knowles loom and seventy Murkland loom weavers, quit work at the mill of Dornan Brothers, because the firm refused their demands of five cents per yard for plain and five and a half cents for shaded work. The weavers employed by John Hamilton held a shop meeting and determined to stop work this morning, and remain out until the new scale of wages shall have been adopted by the firm. Joseph Taylor Sons & Company have granted the additional one-half cent per yard on the shaded work demanded by the weavers.

No Settlement of the Reading Strike. PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 20.—There is no indication of an early settlement of the Reading railroad miners' and railroaders' strike. The men seem as firm as ever, and the company shows no intention to retreat a step from the position first taken hy Mr. Corbin. The effect of such a fight as now seems cortain must be disastrous to all kinds of business in the Schuylkill valley, where the mannfacturers depend on the Reading company for their supply of coal. There appears to be no danger of a coal famine in this city. The output in the Wyoming region for last week was alone in excess of all the coal mined in the corresponding week of last year, and it is evident that a sufficient quantity can be had from that region to meet the

AND now the claim is made that Senator Sherman isn't such "hig pertaters" after all as a financier-that he got his idea of the great refunding act for which he was credited a few years ago from the late Hon. Madison C. Johnson, of Lexington. If such is really true, the Senator should let a deluded public know it at once. "Every tub should stand on its own bottom"-if it has one. But the fact that this distinguished Ohloan's tariff speech a few days ago was mainly a rehash of Blaine's letter will go far towards leading the public to believe that the Senator's tub hasn't got much of a bottom to stand on, after all.

THE Kentncky Senate has spent much valuable time in discussing the Blair bill, a measure that is pending away off yonder in Congress. What are those fellows at Frankfort paid for anyhow? What were they sent to Frankfort for? No donbt their opinions will exert a powerful influence at Washington, but if the Legislators really wish to fritter away their time in nseless talk they should get up a little Blair bill of their own. True, they are eash making five dollars a day at it, but the taxpayers have to pay for all their "chin music." The Senators should resolve to hereafter attend to their own business, and leave the Blair bill to Congress.

The l'ian of a "Woo-ey"-Shares and Shareholders-11eavy Premlums.

The Chinese have a way of borrowing and lending money under a system that they call a Woo-ey, that allows its members to borrow money in a stated sum and repay it by installments. Any member of a Woo-ey who takes a share and does not wish to borrow himself obtains a good interest on the money he invests. The plan of a Woo-ey is as follows:

Ah Sing wants to borrow $100 and repay It in installments, so ho starts a Woo-oy; his first step is to flud twenty persons who are willing to take a $5 share in a $100 Woo-ey. Ah Sing is known as the Woo-ey Tow, or head of the Woo-ey; the shareholders are known as Woo-ey Chl, or children of the Woo-ey. The Woo-ey lasts for twenty months; each Woo-ey Chl pays in $5 to the Woo-ey Tow, so that Ah Sing obtains his $100. At the end of the month Ah Sing goes to each of the shareholders and asks for bids for the next loan; each member writes his name and the amount of interest he is willing to pay on a slip of paper. Every member has the right of borrowing money once during the Woo-ey. After the bids are all received they are opened and read and the money lent to the highest bidder. We will suppose that 2 per cent. is the highest bid. Ah Sing, who now pays the ilrst instailment, has to pay in the full amount of $5, while the others deduct the 2 per cent, and pay in $4.90. When the next Installment falls duo thero are two members who have to pay in the full amount,

At the end of ilfteen or sixteen months the Interest offered is often as high as 25 or 30 per cent., but as lifteen of the members have borrowed, and so have to pay in the full who get the benefit of the heavy interest. Sometimes toward the last of the Woo-ey, when two or three different ones wish to borrow, the rates offered are often as high as 75 per cent., and in one instance that I know of, just before the Chinese New Year, 100 per cent, was bid on a $5 Woo-ey. As there were three members that had not borrowed, the hard up Celestial had only to pay the heavy premlum to two men. Sometimes the Woo-ey is as low as fifty cents a sharo, and I have known of Woo-eys as high as $50 a share. Those who go into a Woo-ey as an Investment, and do not borrow themselves, generally get a large interest for their money.—San Francisco Cor. Chicago Horald.

Ella Wheeler Wilcox at Work.

"I like to be interrupted," said Ella Wheeler Wilcox, "and that is one reason why I like New Yook; there is no other place where interruption comes so easily.

"No, I am not one of the poets who fly to nature. I don't mean any disrespect to nature; the pathless forests are very fine things In themselves, but they don't Inspire me like human beings, human thoughts and human dalngs. I want to be among people and feel the pulse of humanity throb. I enjoy having my fellow creatures about me. I like to hear the teams rattle by in the street. I like to stop work now and thon and go out and walk down town, and see the world busy as it is bus, here in the city every day. "I believe I write best with people about me in the room. Of couse, I shouldn't wish to feel that they were dependent on mo for extertainment, but I like the atmosphere of social company, chatting among themselves And spenking to me now and theu. I can toin in the talk and then go back to pen and paper just as readlly as if I were alone." "And you don't find the thread of your

.houghts broken or confused?" "If I stop half a dozen times I know that the lines will run just as smoothly in the end as if I had turned the key upon myself and insisted on a fine frenzy in solitude. I mean it: I like to be interrupted. It is two months ago now that a poem came to me at the theatre one night. I had time to write a few verses only, and since then I have been out and I have had other writing to do. It was not until Sunday ovening that I found time to finish that poem. There were people here until 10:30, but whou I was able to slt down at my writing table the stanzas came as fresh and as naturally as if the thought hadn't been interrupted for weeks in finding expression."-Eliza Putnam Heaton in Buf-

A Lot of Stolen Nuggets. DENVER, Col., Jan. 20.—Oliver Gratton was arrested at the union depot last evening as he stepped off the train from Breckinridge, Col, on a warrant charging him with stealing nearly $30,000 in nuggets from the Victoria placer mine near Breckinridge. The mine belongs to Col. Ware and W. M. Hudson, who had employed Gratton to work the property for them. The prisoner's trunks were searched, and nuggets and mint certificates amounting to $18,000 or $20,000 were found, besides the deeds of several farms in Canada. Gratton denies his guilt, and says he is being persecuted by Ware and Hudson, with whom he had trouble before he left the mine. He declares he was on his way to

THE PUBLIC SCHOOLS.

Notes and Comments by the County Superintendent.

Consus report of pupils, 88; pupils on roll, 41; average attendance, 27.

The trustees are George Taylor, Dr. A that its exact status, as to the common school, has been determined. The trustees should see to this and to some necessary repairs. The furniture is quite old and not sufficient for the proper seating of the school.

Miss Mary P. Chambers is teaching this school. She is an earnest and suseessful teacher-full of sympathy with the chlldren and therefore able to secure their attention and interest in the school work. She nees written work in spelling, grammar, geography and United States his-Miss Chambers writes: "I am not satisfied with the year's work, as a whole, but in some individual cases, I have had gralifying results. I have been faithful and diligent. I don't pretend to certainly succeeded in interesting the children in their work; and labored to make them independent of my assistance, or in other words, I have taught them to study."

I have no fears for the school where I find this earnest discontent on the part of the teacher; for this is the great source of all success in the school room. But deliver the children from self-satisfied teachers; such are too good for any use in the school work. They should be organized into a mutual admiration sociely, and retired to the seclusion of some Utopia. Miss Chambers makes, as the most important suggestion in the interest of the common school, its continuance for

The school has moved out of the old house into the new-a very neat build-lng well suited in all of its appointments as a school honse.

Miss Eliza B. Keyes is teaching this school. She is in the best sense a teacher. With a full sense of the responsibility of her work, she hrings ability and untiring energy to its performance. Her classes always acquit themselves with great credit. It is a genuine pleasure to visit her school and witness the earnest good will, and good training too, that her pupils bring to the recitation seat. And I must mention as not least her classes in reading. She is very happy in this line of teaching. She writes: Owing to increased numbers in attendance, we have not passed over as much ground as in former years, but there is a disposition on the part of the pupils to stndy and try to understand what they have gone over. In fact, I never saw more interest manifested."

The teacher who can secure this independent effort on the part of pupils is already an assured success—there is no higher praise than this work of the Advances Made to Mr. Justin McCarthey For a Compromise - Seven Hundred Thousand More Soldiers for the German Army-Other Foreign Dispatches.

LONDON, Jan. 20.-The controversy and comment excited by the essertionin a recent speech by Mr. J. G. Shaw-Lefevre that Sir Henry Drummond Wolff and another gentleman in behaif of the Conservatives attempted to negotiate with Mr. Justice Mc-Carty, as a representative of the Parnellite party, for a virtual compromise of the Home Rule question has set many persons to wondering whether there really have not been made attempts on the part of the Tories to pave the way to a graceful withdrawal from the, in many respects, almost untenable position the government now occupies in Ire-

Having gone so far in the enforcement of the coercion act, really further than it had intended to go when the law was passed, the government cannot possibly recede from its position without first having an understanding with the Nationalists. Nobody, of course, believes that the Parneliltes would accept a compromise out of parliament that promised them anything less than they demand at the hands of that body, but the number of persons prepared to believe and house. who, in fact, do believe that the Tories As a would now almost eagerly seize upon the gatlon slightest pretext for a settlement of the present Irish situation upon any terms short of conceding the fuil measure of the Irish demands, and in any manner that would not charged. stultify the party in power, is very great and rapidly increasing.

It is not generally believed that even Mr. his warfare against the league and its sympathizers, involving the wholesaie improvement of men innocent of any crime; but he, too, has goue too far to be able to retrace his steps, or even to halt where he is, and would weicome any proposal for an armistice or a treaty of peace that would guarantee the retention of the government by the Tories, and promise the preservation of the remaining shred of his reputation for fair dealing and the possession of compassionate feeling for his fellow man.

To be sure Mr. Baifour could not individually piedge the government to any bargain with the Irish party, even if the latter were disposed to treat, which they are not, neither could Lord Salisbury himself nor any other member of the government or Tory party; but there are numerous indications that if assurances could be had that overtures looking to a cossution of hostilities would be favorably received and serious entertained by the Home Rulers, a most surprising unanimity of opinion in support of a bargain binding the government to abstain from warring upon the league, throwing innocent persons into jail, suppressing meetings, etc., would become manifest among the Tory officials.

But the Irish leaders are not to be jured into a trap by promises, nor or are they disposed to place much reliance upon the genwineness of assertions of friendship and desire to bestow benefits upon Ireland coming from men who have betrayed every conadeuce reposed in them, even to the extent of perverting the meaning and purpose of a law of the kingdom.

Hissing Mob in a Church.

Paris. Jan. 20.—The congregation of the cathedral at Rouen yesterday was transformed into a mob by the sacrileglous attempt of a priest to work upon the minds of the people by personating God in a dialogue with another costumed priest representing the devil. The excited congregation, after hissing in vain, drowned out the voices of the priests by singing the "Marseiliaise" and "En Revenant de la Mevue." The police came and attempted to run the audlence out, arresting several persons. The disorder was finally stopped by the termination of the

The President's Envoy to the Pope.
